Investment Manager's Report

STANLIB Global Property Fund

For the year to December 2016 (USD)

Portfolio	Return (%)
STANLIB Global Property Fund	-0.12%
Benchmark (S&P Developed REIT Index Total Net Return)	5.72%

The assets in this fund are managed solely by STANLIB Asset Management Limited.

The countries with the best US dollar total return were Canada, Hong Kong, Japan and Australia, driven by a stronger US dollar and a rebound in resource prices. The Canadian REIT market was the best performing by far, with a positive return of circa 21%, boosted by the improved sentiment for resources and potential higher demand for commercial property. The UK market was the worst performing with a negative return of more than 22% due to uncertainties created from the unexpected outcome of the EU referendum in June.

The portfolio underperformed its benchmark index for the 2016 year. The underperformance was primarily due from the underweight allocation to the US and the overweight allocation to the UK. UK property fundamentals have cooled since the referendum but remain solid and valuations are looking cheap therefore the portfolio will remain overweight. In addition, research has shown that in relation to office space, there is currently no realistic alternative to London being the financial centre of Europe. The overweight position in US self-storage REITs was among the stocks with the worst attribution after the outperformance in the prior year. The overweight position in Deutsche Wohnen AG again made a significant positive contribution to portfolio relative return. However, the German residential listed property performance was dragged down by higher bond yields in Germany as the stocks are regarded as bond proxies.

UBS research shows global REITs are trading at a slight premium to Net Asset Value and yield around 4.5% with distribution growth of around 6.4% expected for the next 12 months. Global REITs are facing a challenge in the next twelve months with elevated bond risk, political risk and possibly fundamentals peaking in a mature cycle. However, with a Loan to Value ratio of just under 40% for the group, the balance sheets are stronger than previous cycles. The big question is the direction of bond yields and whether Net Operating Income growth will be strong enough to offset higher financing cost.

STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Bond Fund

For the year to December 2016 (USD)

Portfolio	Return (%)
STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Bond Fund	2.01%
Benchmark (Barclays Multiverse Total Return Index)	2.84%

The assets in this fund are managed by diverse sub-investment managers selected by STANLIB Asset Management Limited. Sub-Investment Managers used at 31 December 2016 were: Blackrock Inc; Brandywine Global Investment Management Limited; Capital Asset Management Inc and Columbia Asset Management.

It would be an understatement to say 2016 was a year in which politics had a significant impact on markets. Trump and Brexit were the obvious headline events which characterised the operating environment, with the US election result in particular haunting sovereign bond markets through October and November. Trump's expected pro-growth economic agenda was the catalyst behind the sell-off in global fixed income markets, aided by a shift from monetary to fiscal policy, led by China, as well as stronger global growth. The Fed raised rates for only the second time in a decade, adding 25bps at its December meeting - a decision widely anticipated by markets. US 10 year government bonds ended 2016 at 2.44%, having gone as low as 1.36% in early July. For the year as a whole, yields were 17bps higher than where they started. Conversely Japanese and European yields were lower with UK gilts falling 72bps. Interestingly, the stock of negatively yielding global bonds peaked at an eye watering US$13.3 trillion towards the end of the third quarter. A stronger US dollar was another big theme in quarter four and, as a result, the yen tumbled (-13%) while sterling (-5%) and the euro (-6%) were also down sharply. This helped the trade weighted dollar gain 4% for the year.

The fund underperformed the benchmark over the 2016 calendar year. Emerging Markets (where we are overweight) had a strong start to the year, yet pulled back with Trump's election and the subsequent fear of the struggles they could face as protectionism comes to the fore and globalism becoming a thing of the past. Brandywine was the best performing manager over the year, even though the US election outcome impacted on their performance. A large contributor to their returns was being underweight the yen and euro while certain commodity linked exposures such as Brazil and South Africa were positive. The Capital Group outperformed the Barclays Aggregate Index but underperformed the Multiverse benchmark as high yield bonds rallied - helped by base effects from the rout in 2015 when issuers in the Energy sector struggled post the collapse in oil. Our biggest disappointment was Columbia whose long duration positioning detracted. At a total portfolio level, the biggest drag on performance for the year was the position in Mexico, which was a crowded trade amongst our managers. Mexican 10 year bond yields rose by 116bp but this was compounded by the 20.5% fall by the peso against the dollar. Fortunately the aforementioned was offset by another consensus position of our managers, which was in high yield and emerging markets – both posted excess duration adjusted returns of 15.4% and 8.1% respectively.

Looking forward, the US Federal Reserve has signalled plans for three more rate hikes in 2017. We expect inflation expectations to continue to rise globally. The end to financial repression and the ascendance of the Trump administration are broadly positive for the US. The real issue though, is how much good news has been priced in, and whether there are any pricing anomalies. Trump continues to iterate that he will be business friendly, but the risk remains that his abrasive nature could cause a lot of friction, and thus volatility in the market. Protectionism is a key concern and will likely have a negative impact on both growth and inflation. For now, the global economy is showing signs of improvement with leading indicators turning more positive. In order to keep up the momentum, we need fiscal stimulus to come through in the form of tax cuts and increased infrastructure and defence spending.

Brandywine has a large overweight to Emerging Markets as they believe that Developed Market yields will continue to rise. They are, however, tactical in their allocation to the likes of the US, and will buy as opportunities present themselves. Columbia Threadneedle's customised mandate will benefit from the allocation to ILBs if inflation rises. In addition, their Emerging Market exposure should benefit if Trump's policies are more growth orientated as opposed to protectionist. They remain vigilant to risks associated with the political environment, Trump's trade policy and the European election cycle. Finally, the Capital Group is constructive on their growth outlook, and expect inflation to come through (and are therefore adding to inflation linked bonds). They believe the ECB will taper their accommodative monetary policy and thus expect non-euro countries will benefit in the growth environment.

STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Equity Fund

For the year to December 2016 (USD)

Portfolio	Return (%)
STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Bond Fund	2.01%
Benchmark (Barclays Multiverse Total Return Index)	2.84%

The assets in this fund are managed by diverse sub-investment managers selected by STANLIB Asset Management Limited. Sub-Investment Managers used at 31 December 2016 were: Aberdeen Asset Management; Alliance Bernstein L.P.; Capital Asset Management Inc; Fidelity Asset Management; Hosking Partners LLP and Veritas Asset Management.

The surprises of 2016 continued in the last quarter of the year when Trump won the US Election. We learnt from Brexit to expect the unexpected, yet the financial industry still largely anticipated Clinton to enter the White House and as a result markets reacted sharply to the Trump victory. The Fed raised the Federal funds rate by 25bps at its December meeting - a decision widely expected by markets. In addition, global long-term rates also moved higher in anticipation of Trump's fiscal policy. The period under review was good for small caps and emerging markets, with some developed markets struggling, while the operating environment was characterised by large divergence in sector performance i.e. Energy returning over 23% and Health Care contracting 8%. The key performance event of the year was however the strong rebound in commodity prices, and oil in particular, with Industrial Metals rising 43% and Mining 52%. As a result, countries that are heavily reliant on the commodity sector such as the likes of Brazil (+66%) and Russia (+56%) led performance tables while China (+1%) and India (-1%) lagged. The US led developed markets once again with a total return of 12%, outperforming emerging markets for the fourth year in a row. A key drag on developed market performance was the FTSE 100, which was undermined by the 16% fall in Sterling.

The portfolio underperformed the benchmark over the year. The fund's overweight to small caps and emerging markets was beneficial. Value came back into favour during the second half of the year, resulting in our alternative beta mandate with Alliance Bernstein being the best performer for 2016, returning 12.6%. Aberdeen's quality value bias also contributed to returns, with Energy and Materials overweight. Their overweight to Latin America contributed, while the underweight to North America and large allocation to Consumer Staples detracted. Hosking lagged for the year, but performed well in the second half as a result of overweight to Financials and small caps. Capital had the weakest performance within the composite, with both their sector and regional allocation detracting, and especially their stock selection in Financials. Veritas's defensive positioning hurt performance, with security selection in particular detracting.

Looking forward, we expect volatility to continue to be a feature in 2017. The details of Trump's policy agenda will be important as the market considers his campaign promises and executive orders. Stock selection will remain vital given the anticipated rise in volatility. As such Aberdeen could continue to recover as their quality value style comes into favour. Alliance Bernstein should also be well positioned given their value-weighted mandate. Arrowstreet, as a quantitative manager, has a value tilt as well as cyclical exposure, which will stand them in good stead if the current trend continues. If interest rates keep rising, Hosking Partners should fare well as Financials continue to rebound (rising yields typically help banks net interest margins). Financials also don't have the same supply chains as multinationals who could be negatively impacted by protectionism. Veritas, our defensive manager, may lag should the bull market continue as they are struggling to find good investment opportunities given their cautious outlook and valuations being on the expensive side. Capital Group is also more defensive in nature and therefore may struggle as well.

On the whole, we are concerned markets have priced in much of the upside ahead of any concrete policy details being debated or established in the US. We believe the risks (recognised by the market earlier in the year) have not gone away, with a Chinese hard landing and further break-up of Europe both remaining real threats. European elections in 2017 could bring further upheaval.

Global markets made substantial gains during the year. Despite volatility prompted by concerns over China's economy and the UK's Brexit vote, global equities gained on the back of recovering oil prices and ongoing monetary stimulus. The election of Donald Trump in November sparked a late-year rally, amid expectations of lower taxes, laxer regulation and increased spending. In the US, robust employment data in the third and fourth quarters heightened expectations for a rate hike which was duly delivered in December, when the Federal Reserve raised interest rates by 25 bps. Central bank activity also came to the fore in the eurozone. After initially boosting its stimulus programme, the European Central Bank (ECB) held fire in the wake of the Brexit vote. However, late in the year, the ECB extended its bond-buying scheme until at least December 2017. In the UK, market sentiment initially shifted in line with forecasts consequent to a Brexit vote. Although the result initially prompted a large-scale sell-off, markets quickly bounced back as fears about the global impact of Brexit eased. Japan battled to boost inflation and weaken the yen throughout the year, with mixed results. Emerging markets made strong gains over the year, despite the prospect, then reality, of rising interest rates in the US.

The fund underperformed its benchmark over the year ending 31 December 2016. Allocation detracted at the regional level. In sector terms, gains from our positioning in technology and consumer staples were more than offset by detraction from underweights in energy and materials:

- 2016 has been marked by a series of rotations across sectors, initially favouring those hunting for yield and seeking the more defensive areas of the market and more recently into value names. The latter started with the rebound in oil prices early in the year, which saw energy stocks rally; over the past few months, financials (in particular banks) have outperformed. The strategy started the year underweight these areas of the market favouring high quality, secular growth names, hence the relative underperformance that we have seen.

- Exposure in the healthcare sector, some of it stock specific (e.g. Vertex and Alkermes which had disappointing news on new drugs), some of it more generic as investors feared the effect on drug pricing on the outcome of the US election.
- Europe de-tracted from performance as our exposure was too defensive when investors rewarded some of the recovery stocks in, for instance, the mining and industrials sector.
- The year has been marked by a number of macro events that have had a significant bearing on markets and which have gone against our positioning: most recently markets have been dominated by the victory of President Trump.

Political uncertainty, rising populism and policy divergence dominated markets in 2016, and we expect a similar situation in the year ahead. Interest rates have already moved away from emergency settings in the US and are likely to rise further in 2017, but monetary policy in Europe and Japan will probably remain accommodative. This should mean a stronger US dollar, all else being equal, which is likely to be a further headwind for emerging markets. Against this backdrop, we continue our focus on quality growth, seeking competitively advantaged businesses exposed to a secular growth story or ones that can deliver company-led growth. While themes of technology and changing demographics continue to drive our investments, we have added to high-quality cyclical names that could benefit from a Trump presidency.

STANLIB Global Bond Fund

For the year to December 2016 (USD)

Portfolio	Return (%)
STANLIB Global Bond Fund	4.95%
Benchmark (Barclays Capital Global Aggregate Total Return Index)	2.09%

The assets in this fund are managed solely by Brandywine Global Investment Management who is the appointed sub-investment manager.

The portfolio outperformed year ending 31 December 2016, outperforming the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index during the same period as bond yields rose. The portfolio was underweight duration and not exposed to the riskier segments of developed-market global bonds. A lack of exposure to the Japanese yen, the euro, and generally avoiding core-eurozone sovereign debt and minimal exposure to peripheral countries were contributors to relative performance. Higher-quality European sovereign yields rose on burgeoning regional reflation. The sharp contrast between the Fed's path to interest-rate renormalization and continued easing from the Bank of Japan and the European Central Bank (ECB) caused the yen and euro to decline against a surging U.S. dollar during the quarter.

Dollar strength was indiscriminate in the fourth quarter, appreciating against most developed and emerging-market currencies—and accelerated after the U.S. election. Therefore, currency exposure was also a leading detractor to absolute performance for the quarter. Although positions held in Mexican Bonos explain 36% of the absolute decline in the portfolio—of that drop, 70% was attributed to unhedged exposure to the peso. Despite a variety of positive factors—attractive real yields, a low unemployment rate, strong retail sales, credible central bank—Mexican assets have been at the mercy of the speculation regarding its trade relationship with the U.S., the possibility of developed markets repatriating manufacturing jobs and a shift toward protectionism—a movement that may be led by the U.S.—also weighed on the Malaysian ringgit and Indonesian rupiah, whilst stabilizing crude prices helped slow down their depreciation. The Brazilian real managed to retrace its losses following the U.S. election and ended flat for the quarter—unhedged exposure contributed modestly to relative performance.

STANLIB Global Emerging Markets Fund

For the year to December 2016 (USD)

Portfolio	Return (%)
STANLIB Global Emerging Market Fund	6.09%
Benchmark (MSCI Emerging Markets Free Index)	11.19%

The assets in this fund are managed solely by Columbia Threadneedle Investments who are the appointed sub-investment manager.

Global emerging market (EM) equities performed strongly, achieving their best year since 2010. Markets were buoyed by further monetary easing by many EM central banks, additional government fiscal stimulus and the rally in commodity prices. However, late in the year Donald Trump's election victory weighed on sentiment, given fears of US protectionism. Additionally, in December, the Federal Reserve raised US interest rates. The strongest-performing markets included Russia and Brazil, which benefited from the rise in commodity prices. Additionally, political developments in Brazil were taken positively following the installation of a new pro-reform administration. Russia has begun to enjoy improved relations with the US. Mexico was among the weakest markets and China also underperformed. Mexico is vulnerable to any potential changes in US trade policies. After a rocky start to the year, the Chinese market rallied as the economy began to stabilise. However, potential US protectionism and the rise in US interest rates have recently damped sentiment. India ended the year lower, despite rate cuts from the central bank and the passage of several key structural reforms. The market fell following the government's demonetisation drive, as near-term growth is likely to be hurt, although the policy should bring long-term benefits.

The fund underperformed over the year ending 31 December 2016. While the underweight in China and overweight in Russia proved rewarding, the underweight in Brazil and overweight in Mexico detracted from returns. In addition, the overweight in India dampened performance. Stock selection proved unhelpful, with gains in China and South Africa offset by choices in Brazil and Mexico. At a sector level, the underweights in energy and materials proved disadvantageous, along with the overweight in consumer staples. India was an overweight in portfolio and a further detractor as of quarter four due to the fall in its market.

The US election result has introduced uncertainty with respect to trade protectionism and anti-immigration policies. In addition, the strength of the US dollar and the trajectory of rate hikes are risks to monitor in relation to capital flows. In reality, actual policy decisions are likely to be more pragmatic than may have been suggested by Donald Trump's campaign rhetoric.

Global equities rose strongly in 2016, while global bonds made smaller aggregate gains. At the start of the year a stock-market crash in China and plunging oil prices drove equities and bond yields down, as did the UK's Brexit vote halfway through. After relative calm in quarter three, core bonds sold off and equities rallied in the final quarter. This was largely driven by Donald Trump's election victory and growing expectation that his policies will prompt higher US growth and inflation, and, as a result, faster interest-rate hikes. UK share and bond markets both enjoyed double-digit returns in local terms but this was wiped out in dollar terms by a post-referendum collapse in sterling. US equities were strong while Treasuries lagged core bond markets. Robust US employment data in the third and fourth quarters heightened expectations for a rate hike – which the Fed duly delivered in December. Meanwhile, the Bank of Japan, European Central Bank, and Bank of England all cut their benchmark rates in 2016; the ECB and BoE also ramped up stimulus efforts. Japan battled to boost inflation and weaken the yen; persistent yen strength in the first half saw Japanese equities trail far behind global averages over the year as a whole, while Japanese government bonds outperformed. Emerging market assets made strong gains over the year as investors searched for yield, despite the prospect, then reality, of rising US interest rates.

The portfolio underperformed its benchmark index on a gross basis over the year ending 31 December 2016. Asset allocation was unfavourable, largely the result of holding an overweight in cash amid rising markets. Positive selection effects in fixed income and cash were more than offset by negative effects in property and equities.

Political uncertainty, rising populism and policy divergence will continue to dominate in 2017. Interest rates have already moved away from emergency settings in the US and are likely to continue along a rising path in 2017 but monetary policy in Europe and Japan will remain accommodative.

Global equities rose strongly in 2016, while global bonds made smaller aggregate gains. At the start of the year, a stock-market crash in China and plunging oil prices drove equities and bond yields down, as did the UK's Brexit vote halfway through. After relative calm in quarter three, core bonds sold off and equities rallied in the final quarter. This was largely driven by Donald Trump's election victory and growing expectation that his policies will prompt higher US growth and inflation, and, as a result, faster interest-rate hikes. UK share and bond markets both enjoyed double-digit returns in local terms but this was wiped out in dollar terms by a post-referendum collapse in Sterling. STANLIB European Equity Fund

Portfolio	Return (%)
STANLIB European Equity Fund	-3.27%
Benchmark (MSCI Europe Index)	2.58%

The assets in this fund are managed solely by Columbia Threadneedle Investments who are the appointed sub-investment manager.

During 2016, the fund's benchmark index rose by 3.2% in euro terms. Markets were volatile; concerns regarding China's economy intensified, before abating. The oil price was another source of concern, reaching multi-year lows before rallying, boosted by OPEC's agreement to cut production. European economic data was also broadly encouraging. However, markets received a shock in June when the UK voted to leave the EU, introducing a period of political and economic uncertainty, and boosting support for anti-EU and anti-euro factions elsewhere. Donald Trump's victory sparked an equity-market rally, particularly in cyclicals; he plans to stimulate the US economy, a key export market for European companies. The US Federal Reserve increased interest rates, bolstering financial stocks. Within the benchmark index, Norway, Austria and France led the outperformers. Denmark and Italy were the weakest. Energy, materials and industrials delivered strong returns. Laggards included telecoms and healthcare.

The portfolio underperformed its benchmark index over the year ending 31 December 2016. The overweight in industrials and zero weighting in utilities added value but the overweight in Ireland and the average underweighting in energy hampered returns. Stock selection was unfavourable in aggregate, despite successful selection in technology and energy.

Market volatility continues in the wake of the UK's Brexit vote, Trump's election and Italy's referendum; it will take time before the full political, economic and financial repercussions become clear. There is also the risk of anti-EU political contagion. Of particular importance has been the rise in long-term bond yields, especially in the US; this has hampered the performance of bond proxies and boosted many financial stocks. The oil price and China's economic outlook will also continue to affect equity markets.

However, volatility provides us with investment opportunities. M&A activity may increase and interest rates are likely to remain low in the UK and Europe. Quantitative easing, relatively low energy prices and loosening credit conditions continue to support the trading environment for European companies, while Sterling weakness will benefit UK exporters and global businesses.

Our opinion

In our opinion, STANLIB Fund Limited's financial statements (the "financial statements"):

- Give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at year end date and of its profit/loss and cash flows for the year then ended;
- Have been properly prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS); and
- Have been properly prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies (Jersey) Law 1991.

What we have audited

The financial statements comprise:

- The Statement of Financial Position as at 31 December 2016;
- The Statement of Comprehensive Income for the year then ended;
- The Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares for the year then ended;
- The Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended;
- The accounting policies; and
- The notes to the financial statements, which include other explanatory information.

The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and IFRS.

In applying the financial reporting framework, the directors have made a number of subjective judgements, for example in respect of significant accounting estimates. In making such estimates, they have made assumptions and considered future events.

In our opinion the information given in the Directors' Report for the financial year for which financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements.

Other Matters on which we are required to report by exception

Accounting records and information and explanations received

- We have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- Proper accounting records have not been kept; or
- The financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records.

We have no exceptions to report arising from this responsibility.

Responsibilities for the financial statements and the audit

Our responsibilities and those of the directors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement set out on page 6, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view.

Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). Those standards require us to comply with the Auditing practices Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

This report, including the opinions, has been prepared for and only for the company's members as a body in accordance with Article 113A of the Companies (Jersey) Law 1991 and for no other purpose. We do not, in giving these opinions, accept or assume responsibility for any other purpose or to any other person to whom this report is shown or into whose hands it may come save where expressly agreed by our prior consent in writing.

What an audit of financial statements involves

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of:

- Whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed;
- The reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors; and
- The overall presentation of the financial statements.

We primarily focus our work in these areas by assessing the directors' judgements against available evidence, forming our own judgements, and evaluating the disclosures in the financial statements.

We test and examine information, using sampling and other auditing techniques, to the extent we consider necessary to provide a reasonable basis for us to draw conclusions. We obtain audit evidence through testing the effectiveness of controls, substantive procedures or a combination of both.

In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Annual Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements and to identify any information that is apparently materially incorrect based on, or materially inconsistent with, the knowledge acquired by us in the course of performing the audit. If we become aware of any apparent material misstatements or inconsistencies we consider the implications for our report.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Incorporation

STANLIB Funds Limited (the “Company”) was incorporated in Jersey on 18 March 1996 under the provision of the companies (Jersey) Law, 1991 (as amended).

The Company is an open-ended investment company in that it may issue and redeem participating shares. The share classes of the Company are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange.

As at 31 December 2016, participating shares were offered in the Company as shares of the STANLIB Global Property Fund, STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Bond Fund, STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Equity Fund, STANLIB High Alpha Global Equity Fund, STANLIB Global Bond Fund, STANLIB Global Emerging Markets Fund, STANLIB Global Balanced Fund, STANLIB Global Balanced Cautious Fund and STANLIB European Equity Fund (the “Class Funds”).

The funds objectives are outlined in the directors’ report on page 3 and 4.

The ultimate controlling party of the Company is Liberty Holdings Limited (domiciled in Johannesburg, South Africa). Liberty Group Limited (also domiciled in Johannesburg, South Africa), which has direct holdings in the Company’s founder shares, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty Holdings Limited.

2. Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all periods presented unless otherwise stated in the following text.

a. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis under the historical cost convention, as modified by the fair valuation of investments, financial assets and financial liabilities, and in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”).

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Although these estimates are based on management’s best knowledge of the amount, event or actions, actual results ultimately may differ from those estimates. The Board of Directors makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future.

The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. There are no estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities.

Standards and amendments to existing standards effective 1 January 2016.

There are no standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are effective for the first time for the financial year beginning 1 January 2016 that would be expected to have a material impact on the Company.

New standards, amendments and interpretations effective after 1 January 2016 and have not been early adopted.

A number of new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations are effective for annual periods beginning after 1 January 2016, and have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. None of these is expected to have a significant effect on the financial statements of the Company.

IFRS 9, ‘Financial instruments’, addresses the classification, measurement and recognition of financial assets and financial liabilities. IFRS 9 was issued in November 2009 and October 2010. It replaces the parts of IAS 39 that relate to the classification and measurement of financial instruments. IFRS 9 requires financial assets to be classified into two measurement categories: those measured as at fair value and those measured at amortised cost. The determination is made at initial recognition. The classification depends on the entity’s business model for managing its financial instruments and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the instrument. For financial liabilities, the standard retains most of the IAS 39 requirements. The main change is that, in cases where the fair value option is taken for financial liabilities, the part of a fair value change due to an entity’s own credit risk is recorded in other comprehensive income rather than the Statement of Comprehensive Income, unless this creates an accounting mismatch. The Company is yet to assess IFRS 9’s full impact and intends to adopt IFRS 9 no later than the accounting period beginning on or after 1 January 2018. The Company will also consider the impact of the remaining phases of IFRS 9 when completed.

There are no other standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the Company.

b. Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

(i) Classification and recognition

IAS 39 (revised) sets out the requirements for recognition and measurement of all financial assets and financial liabilities including derivative instruments. The Company has classified all financial instruments as financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in accordance with IAS 39.

The category of financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss comprises:

- Financial instruments held for trading: A financial asset or a financial liability is classified as held for trading if it is acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the near term or if on initial recognition is part of a portfolio of identifiable financial investments that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit taking.
- Financial instruments designated at fair value through profit or loss upon initial recognition. These include financial assets that are not held for trading purposes and which may be sold.

The Company recognises financial assets and financial liabilities on the date it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument, and all significant rights and access to the benefits from the assets, and the exposure to the risks inherent in those benefits, are transferred to the Company.

A regular way purchase or sale of financial assets or financial liabilities is recognised using trade date accounting. From this date, any gains and losses, arising from changes in fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, are recorded with the realised gains/losses calculated using a First-In, First Out ("FIFO") method.

(ii) Measurement

Financial instruments are measured initially at fair value (transaction price) plus, in case of a financial asset or financial liability not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset or financial liability. Transaction costs on financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are expensed immediately.

Subsequent to initial recognition, all instruments classified at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Financial liabilities, arising from the redeemable shares issued by the Company, are carried at the redemption amount representing the shareholders' right to a residual interest in the Company's assets.

(iii) The estimation of fair value, after initial recognition, is determined as follows:

The Company's financial instruments are carried at fair value on the Statement of Financial Position. The fair value of instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the year end date.

The Company primarily invests in equities, corporate bonds, cash or cash equivalents and over the counter ("OTC") derivative instruments.

Financial assets classified as receivables are carried at par.

(iv) Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are deemed to have occurred at the beginning of the reporting period.

(v) Derecognition

A financial asset is derecognised when the contractual right to receive cash flows from the financial asset has expired or the Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership. A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract has been discharged, cancelled or expired.

c. Investments

Investments listed on a recognised stock exchange or any other organised market are valued at mid price, or in the event that there are several such markets, on the basis of the last available mid price on the main market for the relevant investment on the statement of financial position date. If the last available mid price for a given investment does not truly reflect its value, then the investment is valued on the basis of the probable sale price which the Company's Board of Directors deems prudent to assume. No such estimates have been included in the financial statements as at 31 December 2016 and 31 December 2015.

Purchases and sales of investments are recognised on trade date – the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset. Investments are initially recognised at fair value, and transaction costs for all financial assets and financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed as incurred. Investments are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or the Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

Gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the "Investments category" are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income in the year in which they arise. Interest income is recognised on a time-proportionate basis using the effective interest method. It includes interest income from cash and cash equivalents and on debt securities at fair value through profit or loss. Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive payment is established.

All related realised and change in unrealised gains and losses are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as they arise with the realised gains/losses calculated using a First-In, First Out ("FIFO") method.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the Statement of Financial Position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

d. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash comprises of cash on hand and demand deposits. Cash equivalents, if any, are short term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant changes in value. Cash is held in accounts at The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV which allows the Class Funds instant access to their accounts. Bank overdrafts if any, are included in the liabilities section of the Statement of Financial Position.

e. Derivative financial instruments

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value. Changes in fair value are recognised immediately in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

(i) Forwards

Forward Currency contracts are fair valued at the prevailing forward rate at the reporting date. The resulting unrealised gains and losses for the year are included in the Statement of Financial Position and the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

(ii) Futures

Open futures contracts are fair valued at the official exchange traded price at the close of business on the valuation day to approximate fair value. This fair value, less purchase price, represents the net unrealised gain or loss attributable to these open positions, and is included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

f. Dividend Income and Bond Interest

Dividends on equities are accounted for on an ex-dividend basis when the right to receive payment is established. Dividends are shown gross of withholding tax. Bank and deposit interest are accounted for on an accrual basis. Interest from debt securities is recognised as revenue using the effective interest method by reference to the purchase price.

Under applicable foreign tax laws, withholding taxes may be deducted from interest, dividends and capital gains attributable to the Company, at various rates. The Company pays withholding tax on dividends, which is deducted at source.

g. Interest Income

Interest income on investment securities is accrued on an effective yield basis and recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Interest income on securities includes interest and discount earned (net of premium), which is the difference between the face value and the original cost, including original issue discount. Interest earned whilst holding investment securities is reported as interest income in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

h. Expenses

The Company is responsible for its own operating expenses, including audit and legal fees and charges incurred on the acquisition and realisation of investments. Such operating expenses will be borne by the Class Funds as the Directors shall determine, and usually pro rata if not clearly attributable to a specific Class Fund.

The expenses of introducing new Class Funds will be charged to the relevant Class Fund as provided for in the fund rules.

The Manager may, at its discretion and without recourse to the Company, pay commissions directly to investors or to investors' agents in respect of subscription for Shares, subject to the general overriding requirement to treat Shareholders equally.

All expenses, including Operating expenses, Custodian fees, Directors fees and Management fees are accounted for on an accruals basis.

i. Withholding tax

The Company currently incurs withholding tax imposed by certain countries on investment income and capital gains. Such income or gains are reported gross of withholding tax and the withholding tax is shown separately in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

j. Redeemable participating shares

Redeemable participating shares are redeemable at the shareholder's option and are classified as financial liabilities. Any distributions on these shares are recognised in the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares.

k. Foreign currency translation

Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Company's financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates (the "functional currency").

Management considers this to be Euro (“EUR”) for STANLIB European Equity Fund and United States Dollar (“USD”) for the remaining Class Funds.

The Company has adopted the United States Dollar as its presentation currency based on the economic environment in which the Company operates, as the majority of the Company's net assets attributable to redeemable participating shares are in USD. The presentation currency for STANLIB European Equity Fund is Euro.

Transactions and balances

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency are translated into the functional currency at the closing rate of exchange at each period end date. Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at period end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as part of the fair value gain/loss on investments.

Translation differences on non-monetary items, held at fair value through profit and loss are reported as part of the fair value gain and loss.

Reported net realised and unrealised gains and losses arising from foreign currency transactions are reflected in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as part of the fair value gain/loss on investments.

I. Dividend policy

Dividends may be declared on individual Share Classes from time to time provided sufficient net income is available in the proportions attributable to that Share Class in the relevant Class Fund.

m. Total expense ratio

Total expense ratio (“TER”) is calculated and disclosed as per the guidelines issued by the Investment Management Association (IMA). The ratio expresses the sum of all costs charged on an ongoing basis to each Class Fund's assets (operating expenses) taken retrospectively as a percentage of each Class Fund's average net assets. Operating expenses exclude transaction costs and commissions in connection with transactions on the Class Fund's portfolio.

n. Swing Pricing

To the extent that the Directors consider that it is in the best interest of the Company, given the prevailing market conditions and the level of certain subscriptions or redemptions requested by Shareholders in relation to the size of any Class Fund on any business day, an adjustment, as determined by the Directors at their discretion, may be reflected in the net asset value per share of the Class Funds for such sum as may represent the percentage estimate of costs and expenses which may be incurred by the relevant Class Fund under such conditions. The adjustment, where applied, is included within the dealing price available to Shareholders.

o. Related party disclosures

All related party transactions and balances are disclosed in the financial statements. Please refer to note 9 “Related Party Transactions”.

p. Due from/to Brokers

Amounts due from/to brokers represent payables for securities purchased and receivables for securities sold that have been contracted for but not yet delivered by the year end. These amounts are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost, less provision for impairment for amounts due from brokers. A provision for impairment of amounts due from brokers is established when there is objective evidence that the Company will not be able to collect all amounts due from the relevant broker. Significant financial difficulties of the broker, probability that the broker will enter bankruptcy or financial reorganisation, and default in payments are considered indicators that the amount due from brokers is impaired. Once a financial asset or a group of similar financial assets has been written down as a result of an impairment loss, interest income is recognised using the rate of interest used to discount the future cash flows for the purpose of measuring the impairment loss. There was no impairment loss in the current or prior year.

q. Offsetting

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the Statement of Financial Position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the company or the counterparty.

There are no Master Netting Agreements in place for the Company as at 31 December 2016 and 31 December 2015 and therefore no financial assets or financial liabilities have been offset.

For the purposes of Jersey taxation, the Company falls under Article 123C of the Income Tax (Jersey) Law 1961, as amended, as a Jersey resident company which is neither a “utility company” nor a “financial services company” and as such will be charged Jersey income tax at a rate of 0% on its income (other than on any rental income or property development profits arising in respect of Jersey situs real property or land). The Company will not be subject to tax in Jersey on any capital arising to it.

6. Share capital

5,000,000 Unclassified Shares of USD 1 each	5,000,000	5,000,000

Unclassified Shares

The Articles of Association of the Company provide that the unclassified shares may be issued as participating shares or nominal shares.

Under IAS 32, “Financial Instruments: Presentation”, each class of share capital falls under the definition of ‘non equity’ as participating shares can be redeemed at the direction of the participating shareholders or when the rights of other shareholders are restricted.

Net assets attributable to holders of the redeemable participating shares represent a liability in the Statement of Financial Position, carried at the redemption amount that would be payable at the statement of financial position date if the holder exercised the right to redeem the shares from the Company.

Participating shares may be redeemed either out of the proceeds of the issue of nominal shares, or out of the income of the Class Fund, which would otherwise be available for dividend.

On redemption of participating shares out of the income of the Class Fund, a sum equal to the nominal value of the shares redeemed is transferred to a capital redemption reserve account.

Nominal shares are subscribed and paid for by the Manager and may be converted to participating shares upon the payment of the appropriate premium.

Classes of Shares

The founders' shares are not redeemable and do not carry any rights to dividends. As at 31 December 2016 and 31 December 2015, 10 founders' shares were issued and outstanding. The founders' shares and participating shares are entitled to one vote in respect of each share held. The holder of the nominal shares is entitled to one vote irrespective of the number of shares held. All shares are entitled to participate in the property of the Class Fund on a winding-up as disclosed in the Prospectus.

10. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks

The Class Funds hold a number of financial instruments principally comprising:

- Equity shares, debt securities and fixed income securities which are held in accordance with each Class Fund’s investment objective and policies.
- Cash, certificate of deposits, liquid resources and short-term debtors and creditors that arise directly from its operations, and,
- Foreign currency exchange contracts and futures contracts.

Under the Investment Management Agreement dated 21 December 1998, STANLIB Asset Management Limited has delegated the management of each of the Class Funds to the respective managers as disclosed in the Investment Manager’s Report on pages 9 to 15. Policies for managing market, foreign currency, counterparty and liquidity risks are covered by the respective managers’ policies. The Fund Rules are used by the Administrator and the Manager in order to monitor compliance with respect to these risks.

Market Price Risk

Market price risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices of financial instruments held. It represents the potential loss the Class Funds might suffer through holdings in the investment portfolio in the face of price movements. Adherence to investment guidelines and to investment and borrowing powers set out in the Class Fund Rules mitigate the risk of excessive exposure to any particular type of security or issuer.

Sensitivity analysis

The table below summarises the sensitivity of the Class Funds’ net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares to market price movements. It shows the increase/ (decrease) in the net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares for the Class Funds’ given a 5% movement in the underlying investment prices at year-end; all other variables remaining constant (5% is considered to be a reasonable possible change in price):

Credit Risk

Each Class Fund is restricted to investing no more than 20% of its net asset value in any one issuer and to investing in no more than 20% of the total nominal amount of all issued securities of the same class in the invested corporation. Further details are included within the Portfolio Statement. These limits are tested on a daily basis by the Administrator, on a monthly basis by the Manager and confirmation of adherence is received by the Board of Directors on a quarterly basis, in order to demonstrate effective control.

The Class Funds are not exposed to credit risk from the Custodian, Sub-Custodian and banker as all assets of the Class Funds are maintained in a segregated account, which are designated as client assets and are not co-mingled with any proprietary assets of the Custodian.

The Class Funds that use derivative financial instruments are exposed to credit risk from the counterparty to the contracts. Before transacting with any counterparty, the Investment Manager or its affiliates evaluate both credit-worthiness and reputation by conducting a credit analysis of the party, their business and reputation. The credit risk of approved counterparties is then monitored on an ongoing basis, including periodic reviews of financial statements and interim financial reports as needed.

The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV London Branch had a credit rating with Moodys of Aa1 at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: Aa1).

Currency Risk

The value of assets held by the Class Funds is reported in US Dollars and assets held by STANLIB European Equity Fund is reported in Euro although the underlying assets are denominated in a wide range of currencies. Movements in the relative values of these currencies can cause volatility in the reported US Dollar and Euro values. Although this exposure is not routinely hedged periodic positions in currencies are created through the use of currency derivatives where the investment managers believe that it is in the interest of the Class Funds.

Details of foreign currency contracts outstanding at the year-end are detailed in Note 12. Realised foreign exchange gains and losses made during the year are disclosed in the Statement of Comprehensive Income for each Class Fund and unrealised movements are disclosed in Note 4.

Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities

The following tables show the currency exposure for each Class Fund as at 31 December 2016 and 31 December 2015. As part of the risk analysis the tables show the estimated change in the market value of investments given a 5% movement in the underlying currency against the base currency of the Class Fund. The market value of each currency is made up of its investments, cash, receivables and payables (5% is considered to be a reasonable possible change in foreign currency rates).

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk in relation to funding of redemptions is managed by receiving daily notifications of forthcoming redemption notices and ensuring sufficient liquidity within the portfolio. The current year presentation uses two categories. This is appropriate from a liquidity perspective as it is the intention of the Investment Manager to hold liquid securities traded in active markets and the securities held are valued as such. As these are highly liquid they can be traded in less than 3 months.

Interest rate sensitivity

The Class Funds manage interest rate risk by ensuring that not less than 90% of investments in interest bearing securities are rated investment grade by either Moody's, Standard and Poors or Fitch. An increase of 100 basis points in interest rates as at the reporting date would have decreased the net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares for each Class Fund by approximately:

Class Fund	31 December 2016	31 December 2015
	Decrease	Decrease
	USD	USD
STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Bond Fund	2,703,656	2,235,301
STANLIB Multi-Manager Global Equity Fund	504,253	—
STANLIB Global Bond Fund	2,272,990	2,075,274
STANLIB Global Balanced Fund	286,415	347,281
STANLIB Global Balanced Cautious Fund	280,373	248,714

A decrease of 100 basis points would have had an equal but opposite effect.

The currency and interest rate profiles of cash and cash equivalents (net of bank overdrafts) held at year-end which did not have a fixed maturity date, by each of the Class Funds, is disclosed in the Statement of Financial Position. Short-term debtors and creditors have been excluded from the disclosures of financial instruments.

Other Risks

Capital Risk Management

The capital of the Company is represented by the equity attributable to the holder of redeemable shares. The amount of equity attributable to the holder of redeemable shares can change significantly on a monthly basis, as the Company is subject to daily subscriptions and redemptions at the discretion of the shareholder. The Company's objective when managing capital is to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns for the shareholder and maintain a strong capital base to support the development of the investment activities of the Company.

In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company's policy is to perform the following:

- Monitor the level of daily subscriptions and redemptions relative to the assets it expects to be able to liquidate within fourteen days and adjust the amount of distributions the Company pays to the redeemable shareholder.
- Redeem and issue new shares in accordance with the constitutional documents of the Company, which include the ability to restrict redemptions and require certain minimum holdings and subscriptions.

The Custodian and Investment Manager monitor capital on the basis of the value of equity attributable to the redeemable shareholder.

11. Financial Instruments at fair value through profit or loss

Fair Value Estimation

The fair value of financial assets and liabilities traded in active markets (such as publicly traded derivatives and trading securities) are based on quoted market prices at the close of trading on the year end date.

An active market is a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

A financial instrument is regarded as quoted in an active market if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

IFRS 13 requires the Company to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements.

11. Financial Instruments at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

The carrying value less impairment provision of other receivables and payables are assumed to approximate their fair values. The fair value of financial liabilities for disclosure purposes is estimated by discounting the future contractual cash flows at the current market interest rate that is available to the Company for similar financial instruments.

The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Listed prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1).
- Inputs other than listed prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (level 2).
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (level 3).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Company. The Company considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

12. Derivative Financial Instruments

The Funds hold foreign currency contracts and futures for the purpose of efficient portfolio management.

Foreign currency contracts

The Company has entered into foreign currency contracts to hedge non-functional currency investments held at fair value and for trading purposes. The fair value of open foreign currency contracts at 31 December 2016 and 31 December 2015 is booked in the Statement of Financial Position.

The notional amounts of certain types of financial instrument provide a basis for comparison with instruments recognised on the statement of financial position, but they do not necessarily indicate the amounts of future cash flows involved or the current fair value of the instruments and do not therefore indicate the Fund's exposure to credit or market price risks. The derivative instruments become favourable (assets) or unfavourable (liabilities) as a result of fluctuations in market interest rates or foreign exchange rates relative to their terms. The aggregate contractual or notional amount of derivative financial instruments on hand, the extent to which instruments are favourable or unfavourable, and thus the aggregate fair values of derivative financial assets and liabilities can fluctuate significantly from time to time.

^{*}Class Fund launched on 3 August 2015.
