STANLIB Classic Retirement Annuity Fund Information Document

STANLIB

STANLIB Classic Retirement Annuity Fund Terms and Conditions

The Classic Retirement Annuity Fund is ideal if you want to save for your retirement. You need flexibility when it comes to making a contribution but you also require discipline so that you don't spend your savings before you should. You may choose to invest in a selection of unit trust funds, model portfolios, share portfolios, and other investment portfolio options.

Contributing to your investment

You have a lot of flexibility when it comes to investing. You may invest in any of the following ways:

- An initial once-off lump-sum investment.
- A monthly or annual recurring investment by debit order, which you can start, change, or stop at any time.
- An additional lump-sum investment.
- A transfer from another retirement fund.

Minimum investment amounts are:

- Lump-sum investment: R25 000.
- Recurring investment: R500 per month or R6 000 per annum.

A maximum of R1 000 000 may be debited from your bank account within a day.

Once-off lump-sum investments may be made by direct debit or electronic transfer.

Withdrawing from your investment

It is important to understand that you won't be able to withdraw from your investment until you reach the minimum retirement age of 55. The only circumstances which are an exception are if:

- You officially emigrated through the South African Reserve Bank.
- The value of your investment account is less than the legislated minimum amount of R15 000. In this instance, we can pay out the full value of your investment account to you. We will not be able to do a partial withdrawal.
- You have become permanently disabled or incapacitated and can no longer work. In this case, you may apply for an early retirement. We discuss this process in more detail later.

When you withdraw from your investment, you may be required to pay income tax on the proceeds. We will apply for a tax directive on your behalf from the South African Revenue Service (SARS) when you withdraw. SARS will inform us if tax is due and we will deduct this amount from your proceeds before we pay them over to you. From time to time, SARS may instruct us to deduct additional tax owed by you from the withdrawal through an IT88 directive. We will let you know should this occur. By law, we are required to pay this amount to SARS and may not reverse the directive.

It is important to understand the long term adverse implications on retirement capital and the level of income available in retirement should you withdraw from your retirement savings. We recommend that you discuss any changes to your investment account with your financial adviser before making the change.

Important rules which apply to this investment

Guarantees and risk

STANLIB, the Fund, and the investment manager do not guarantee the value of your investment or the performance of the investment ent portfolios in your investment account. The market value of your investment may fluctuate and go down as well as up, and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. You bear the investment and market risk, which includes the possibility of losing capital. The investment portfolios which you select may expose you to risks such as political, currency, regulatory, settlement, market, credit, liquidity, taxation, or premium risk. It is your responsibility, in conjunction with your financial adviser, to understand the risks in your investment.

Protecting your investment through diversification

Your retirement savings are vital to your long-term planning and well-being. The Pension Funds Registrar recognises this and has put steps in place to limit the risk which you may take in your retirement fund investments. These are called Regulation 28 of the Prudential Investment Guidelines ("Regulation (Reg) 28"), and they regulate the extent to which a member may invest in certain asset classes and equity and debt issuers. We are required to ensure that your investment does not exceed these limits, and we will do so when you invest with us and through quarterly checks. If your investment breaches the limits due to a transaction you have done, we are required to request you to correct this immediately by amending your investment portfolio selection. If your investment exceeds the limits as a result of market movement, you have 12 months in which to bring it back in line with the requirements. We will communicate this to you on a quarterly basis. If we don't hear back from you in the required timelines, we will change the affected portion of your investment portfolio selection on your behalf through a switch into a Money Market Fund, so please do get back to us.

Broadly speaking, the limits are a cap of:

- 75% exposure to equities
- 50% exposure to non-government debt instruments
- 30% exposure to offshore assets
- A further 10% exposure to assets from the rest of Africa
- 25% exposure to property.

We encourage you to make use of the tools on our secure online system and our website to check how your intended transaction will affect your Regulation 28 compliance. Your financial adviser will also be able to assist you with this.

Claiming a tax deduction on your contributions

The contributions which you make to your Retirement Annuity Fund are tax deductible. We will provide you with an annual contributions certificate reflecting the contributions which you have made during the tax year. You need to provide this information to SARS on your tax return and SARS will deduct the contribution amount from your taxable income. The maximum tax-deductible amount which you are able to contribute towards your retirement savings across all of your retirement products, including any employer pension and provident funds, is 27.5% of the greater of your remuneration and taxable income, up to a maximum amount of R350 000 per annum. This is a legislated amount which may change from time to time.

Transferring your membership to STANLIB from another retirement fund

You may transfer your full benefit to us from another retirement fund. It is important that you understand the actual and possible implications and costs before you do this. We allow transfers from other retirement annuity, pension, and provident funds. We will only accept a transfer from a preservation fund if the transfer originated from a divorce. Please check that the retirement fund you want to transfer from will allow the transfer. To give your investment the best change to grow, no financial adviser initial fees, initial administration fees, or initial management fees may be charged on the transfer.

Transferring your membership from the Classic Retirement Annuity Fund to another retirement fund

You may transfer your full benefit to another retirement fund, including the employer pension fund of your current employer, if you are a member of the Fund and the rules of the fund permit the transfer. It is important that you understand the implications and costs before you do this. Before you initiate the transfer, please check that the retirement fund you want to transfer to can accept your transfer from the Fund.

Taxes applicable when you take money from the investment

Income tax will be deducted from any benefit taken in cash before it is paid out to you, in accordance with income tax legislation. You will be provided with an income tax certificate to reflect any tax paid to SARS on your behalf.

Taxes applicable to your investment returns

The returns on your investment are exempt from capital gains tax, income tax on interest, dividends tax, and Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) tax.

Voting in ballots

When the Manager of a unit trust fund in your investment account wishes to change a unit trust fund mandate, dose, or merge a unit trust fund with another unit trust fund. The Fund will participate on your behalf in a ballot vote for the proposed changes. The Trustees always consider the best interests of the members when voting. STANLIB will publish the results of the various ballots on our website. Once a ballot has been approved, a change will take place for your affected investment portfolio(s). These details will appear on your quarterly investment statement.

What happens to your investment if you get divorced

The court may award a portion of your benefit to your ex-spouse. We will withdraw this amount from your investment at the time of receiving the Court Order. The portion withdrawn is taxed in the name of the non-member spouse. The transaction will reflect in your next quarterly statement.

What happens to your investment if you are required to pay maintenance

The court will instruct us to withdraw a portion of your benefit and pay it to the Maintenance Court. The withdrawal will be taxed in your name. The transaction will reflect in your next quarterly statement.

Cooling off

No cooling-off period applies to this investment, and you will not be allowed to cancel your membership, so please consider carefully before you apply for membership.

Ceding of your investment as collateral or security

You are not allowed to cede your membership or your rights to your benefits.

Transferring ownership of your investment

You may not transfer your investment to another party.

Transferring your investment from STANLIB to another retirement fund

You may transfer your full benefit to another retirement fund. It is important that you understand the actual and possible implications and costs before you do this. Before you initiate the transfer, please check that the retirement fund you want to transfer to can accept your benefit

Retirement

Bigibility

You may retire from the Fund once you have reached the age of 55. It is important to understand the long term implications of this big decision, and we recommend that you have a discussion with your financial adviser before taking any action. If you have more than one retirement savings product, you are not required to retire from them all at once.

If you have become permanently disabled or incapacitated and can no longer work, you may apply to retire earlier. You will need to provide evidence of your permanent disability due to ill health or injury. The Trustees will review the details of your situation and, taking into account the Rules and applicable legislation, either grant or reject your request.

Retirement benefit

When you retire from the Fund, you have a choice to either take a portion of your benefit in cash or invest it to provide you with a regular income in your retirement. By law, you can only withdraw a maximum of one third of your retirement benefit in cash when you retire. The portion of the benefit which you do not cash out must be used to purchase an Annuity from a registered long-term insurer.

Your retirement benefit is the value of your investment at the time that we process your retirement instruction. If at the date on which you retire from the Fund, the benefit is R247 500 or less you may withdraw the entire benefit in cash and you are not required to purchase an Annuity. This amount is stipulated by law and can change from time to time, so when you want to retire be sure to find out the latest amount from us.

You may be required to pay income tax on the portion of your retirement benefit which you cash out.

The first R500 000 which you withdraw at retirement is tax free. We will apply for a tax directive on your behalf from SARS when you withdraw. SARS will inform us if tax is due and we will deduct this amount from your proceeds before we pay them over to you. Keep in mind that SARS calculates the tax applicable to your withdrawal in aggregation with all your retirement investments. This means that if you have already received the benefit of your tax-free portion from another retirement investment, your withdrawal from your Classic Retirement Annuity Fund will not be eligible for this tax-free portion again.

From time to time, SARS may instruct us to deduct additional tax owed by you from the withdrawal through an IT88 directive. We will let you know should this occur. By law, we are required to pay this amount to SARS and may not reverse the directive.

Withdraw al payments

Withdrawal processing will only commence once a valid tax directive is received from SARS. To allow for bank clearance, contributions through recurring debit orders can only be withdrawn after 45 days.

What happens to the investment when you pass away

If you pass away, your benefit will not form part of your estate and therefore will not be subject to estate duty tax or executor fees. The value of the death benefit will be the value in your investment account at the time at that the benefit is distributed. The distribution of your benefit is determined by the Trustees of the Fund. This is a responsibility which our Trustees take extremely seriously and undertake with due skill and care.

In terms of Section 37C of the Pension Funds Act 24 of 1956 ("the Act"), Trustees are required to:

- Identify and trace dependants and nominated beneficiaries of deceased members.
- Make death benefit allocations on a fair basis.
- Distribute the benefits.

The Trustees have discretion to pay the benefits to the deceased member's dependants or nominees in such proportions as they deem fair, and dependants typically take preference.

Dependants are a special category of persons as described in the Pension Funds Act, as persons dependant on you for financial support, along with your spouse and children. You may also nominate one or more natural persons to receive any benefits payable on your death, should you not have any dependants. We refer to these persons as nominated beneficiaries. It is important to keep your beneficiary nomination up to date as nominations may be considered by the Trustees when the death benefit is awarded.

Each party who has been awarded a portion of the benefit may choose how they wish to receive the benefit. The options are as follows:

- The death benefit may be used to purchase an Annuity from a registered long-term insurer.
- The death benefit may be paid out as a cash lump sum. Any cash pay-outs will be subject to income tax in the name of the deceased member.
- The death benefit may be provided as a combination of an Annuity purchase and a cash pay-out.

Conflict of interest

We will, wherever possible, avoid situations which result in a conflict of interest for STANLIB and the Fund. Where it is not possible to avoid such conflict, we will advise you of the conflict in writing at the earliest reasonable opportunity and will mitigate the conflict in accordance with our Conflict of Interest Management Policy.

A copy of this Policy is available on our website. STANLIB is part of the Standard Bank Group of companies. Intermediaries of both the Liberty Group and Standard Bank Financial Consultancy (a division of the Standard Bank of South Africa Limited) are permitted to sell STANLIB products.
